

Comhlámh's What Next? course

'A man travels the world in search of what he needs and returns home to find it' – George Moore

A course for returned volunteers

Are you practising social change... or are you just passionate ...?

Whether you are passionate or already practising, this course is for you!

'What Next?' is a course for returnees who have lived and worked overseas in the capacity of volunteer or learner, and who are interested to continue engagement in development education from Ireland.

The 4-day course will engage participants in a critical process to explore development issues and skills to raise awareness and take action locally. An outcome of the course is that participants will have the opportunity to develop and deliver an Action Project either individually or as a group around a particular issue or idea.

How much?

The course will cost €60 per person, which covers all training materials, accommodation costs, meals and refreshments.

When?

Residential* on the weekend of 5th-7th October

(Eco Village, Tipperary)

Saturday 10th November (Sophia Centre, Dublin)

Saturday 1st December (Lantern Centre, Dublin)

*The residential will take place in the Cloughjordan Ecovillage, Tipperary (Ireland's first ecovillage development). Transport to the venue is accessible and very reasonable, and we would also encourage car sharing.

What is provided?

- Residential accommodation
- All meals and refreshments
- 4-days of training
- Support, funding and mentoring to develop Action Projects
